1. ABSTRACT OF THE PROJECT

(i) Name of the scheme

Govt. of India has launched a programme under name and style of Integrated low cost sanitation schemes. Now a days operated through ministry of housing and urban poverty alleviation in those areas where no latrines in EWS houses are available and people belonging to these areas are forced to defecate in open place. The main objective of this scheme envisages conversion of existing dry latrines into water sealed toilets with super structure and Construction of new ones to household belonging to EWS category, who have no latrines in urban area.

In order to cope with massive unhygienic living condition and sanitation problems, which have emerged as a result of fragmentation of old houses into small ones, disintegration of joint family system and urban rapid growth, especially in old Muhallah's, a coherent policy for eradication of dry latrines from urban areas is needed an All Town Coverage Basis.

Thus the scheme has two missions, firstly to eradicate inhuman scavenging system and secondly to provide hygienic conditions to inhabitants of such identified areas.

Towns are to be selected from various States and Union Territories irrespective of their population criteria and also persons belonging to EWS households who have no latrines and defecate in open in urban places. Depending upon the prevalence of dry latrines target will be fixed. Priority is to be given to those towns which have a predominance of dry latrines. Scheme will be applicable to all towns where dry units exist for persons who have no latrines and defecate in open.

The scheme is on 'All Town' coverage basis. The proposal can be submitted by the local body or organizations duly authorized by the state government to the State Urban development Authority for undertaking the programme. After implementation the concerned urban local body/ organization has to give an undertaking prohibiting dry latrines in the towns thereafter. Selection of beneficiaries is to be done on the basis of Biometric Survey conducted and thereafter appraisal of the survey report by the ULB's. From its own sources, the ULB will finalise the beneficiary list.
